

Salvation Songs.

The Open Fougation.

BY ROBERT CONTELL.

TUNE—The Cross and the Crown (R. J., No. 80.)

1 O, you who are serving the devil—
O, you who are living in sin—
O, will you not turn to the Saviour?
O, will you not let Him come in?

CHORUS.

The fountain for sinners is open,
Once there in a soul-saving flood,
There's pain for the weary and wounded,
There's pardon and peace through the blood.

So long you have now been rebelling
Against the commands of God's word;
Come leave off your serving of Satan
Enslaved on the side of the Lord.

My Jesus, He loves you so dearly
He gave up His life for your sake,
He suffered and died on the cross for you,
Your sorrow and guilt He will take.

O, come now, renounce all your idols,
Be washed in the most cleansing blood,
Your heart will be filled with joy,
Because you're at peace with your God.

Why in Sin live any Longer?

BY W. WALKER.

TUNE—Grace there is my crown debt to pay (B. J., No. 115.)

2 Sinner, cast yourself at Jesus' feet,
There's deliverance for you complete,
Why in sin live any longer?
Chains that bind you growing stronger;
Heavy fetters Jesus will break,
And the part of sin and shame He'll take.
Cast it all behind His back, and make
You His dear child.

CHORUS.

Come and prove the power of Christ to save
From this time to which you are a slave.
To accomplish this He life He gave
On Calvary.

Oh in days gone by you've wished to be
Free from all that brings you misery;
Hard you've struggled to achieve it,
But as yet you've failed to gain it.
Human power can never save your soul,
Only Jesus' Blood can make you whole,
Come and He will now the burden roll
From of your heart.

Soon your day of grace will pass away,
Past approaching is the Judgment Day;
What will then be your position?
Will you sink into perdition?
Yes, if unwarmed in the Blood 'tis true,
But the Lord's desire is now that you
Should be washed with His precious blood
The Pearly Gates.

Shout, Shout, Shout.

BY FRED WHITEHEAD.

TUNE—It'll all sound joyful (B. J., No. 20.)

3 Comrades in the battle, face the foe
And never yield,
Though the battle may be fierce and very long;
With us is I am sure, if our hearts are good and pure,
He will give us victory, victory all along.

CHORUS.

Shout, shout, shout, for victory's coming,
Shout, shout, shout, for victory's night;
God is with us do not fear, only let us
persevere,
He will give us blessed victory by-and-by.

Though the enemy is strong, many, many
in the throng,
While our numbers are but very, very few;
Turn to Disfavour, for this promise you will know—
"Do ye not afraid, the Lord will fight for you."

Though the road be very rough, and the foe be very tough,
And the devil does his best to overthrow us,
With King Jesus at our side we are safe
where'er he leads,
So with courage of victory we'll onward
go.

Saviour, Hear Me!

BY LUTHERIAN STEWART.

TUNE—In the Cross (B. J., No. 6.)

4 Jesus Saviour hear my cry
While I thus I'm calling;
Close to Thee I now draw nigh,
At Thy Cross I'm falling.

CHORUS.

From the Cross, from the Cross,
I will never wander,
For I know the path of shame
"Naked the Blood is under."

Self-deceit and idle dream,
Make me pure and holy;
As a child I then shall learn
In the Cross to glory.

Soft no more shall have its way,

For I've found a better way,

Some People Say.

BY MAUD MORDEN.

TUNE—The Blood of Jesus cleanseth white us
snow. (B. J., No. 10.)

5 Some people say our Army band
Is nothing but a fraud,
But on we go to rescue souls,
We bring them to the Blood.
We're training in our King,
We know we're sure to win,
We fight beneath the shadow of the Cross.

CHORUS.

We're fighting 'neath the shadow of the Cross,
We'll know the path of shame
"Naked the Blood is under."
We're fighting 'neath the shadow of the Cross, praise the Lord.

With Christ we're sure to win,
Add conquer hell and sin,
We're fighting 'neath the shadow of the Cross.

The mortal, and drank, son,
The gambler in his den,
They all shall hear of Jesus' name,
And how He died for them.
Salvation's full and free,
Each one may have it,
And live beneath the shadow of the Cross.
Our hearts are right, our lives are bright,
We march to O'Connell's land,
We soon shall join the Army there,
A grand and joyous band,
And now, though sceptics frown,
And try to pull us down,
Their's shall be the shadow of the Cross.

So, comrades dear, be of good cheer,
We're bound to win the day,
Our Lord has promised grace enough,
He'll lead us in the fray.
Then, what our race is run,
We'll hear the glad "Well done,"
And die beneath the shadow of the Cross.

Wonderful Jesus.

TUNE—Come back to Me.

6 Wonderful heaven that's waiting before you,
Wonderful home up above in the skies;
Wonderful pleasures that there will be mine there,
Wonderful people so happy and free.
Come and receive this, and you shall be happy.
Joy and contentment shall ever be thine;
If you refuse this most blessed salvation,
You will be lost, and hell must be your doom.

CHORUS.

Wonderful Jesus, Thy love is so precious,
Wonderful Jesus, Who died on the tree,
Wonderful Jesus, I'll ever adore Thee,
Wonderful Jesus, He does me shall see.

Wonderful Saviour, Whose love is the greatest,
Wonderful Jesus, Who died for us all;
Wonderful Saviour, Who came to rescue us.

Wonderful Spirit, just led to the will,
While still in love, He is asking poor
sinners,
Why will you shun Him while yet you may live!

Jesus for thee shed His Blood, red and hot and Come unto Him, and His love will be-give.

Wonderful pardon that new Jesus offers,
Wonderful grace on the He will bestow;
Wonderful peace that He waits now to give thee.

Wonderful joy that you all may now
know,
Come while His mercy to thee is extended,
Come now to Jesus while yet there is room.

Do not neglect such a boundless salvation,
Or you will surely be lost, and that soon.
Fly now to Jesus, Who died once in our stead.

From all the past of your shame and
your sin,
Now He lavishes you to come and be pardoned,
And have the knowledge of sin here forgiven.

Oh, while He's pleading, obey now His message,
Time now so swiftly is passing away;
Why will you linger while still He is calling.

Come now, oh, come to Him, oh, don't delay!

To Battle We Go.

Boundless Salvation.

BY LEONARD J. WALKER.
TUNE—Tune on, B. B. 23.

1 Wear salutation soldiers, to battle we go,
In the name of Jehovah we'll conquer the foe,
In the Cross and His banner our glory shall be,
Let us toil dying dangers salvation in free.

Working on, praying on,
Fighting on, trusting on,
Let us march and sing,
And we watch and pray,
And labor till the Master calls.

To the work, to the work, there is something to do,
For the harvest is great, but the laborers are few;
Oh, who are new volunteers, to the rescue
Who'll go,
That the souls that are sinking from darkness and woe?
To the work, to the work, oh my comrades,
There is a bright reward a waiting in heaven above;
When the angels rejoice the above us we bring,
We shall hear the glad "Well done" of our King.

Without a Dread or Fear.

BY CAPTAIN SCOTT.
TUNE—From every side of free, B. B. 21.

2 For all those new, dear Lord,
Half-hearted I will be,
Over keep back the offering
That now belongs to thee,
Comfort can I find,
While from Thee I am apart,
One little look of sadness, Lord,
Thou dost see all my heart.

3 Now I come, I come,
Thy welcome voice I hear,
Hiding my weakness all on Thee,
With out a dread or fear.
Thou shalt be like, Lord,
Upon me to depend,
Though on the way my rugged
I know Thou art my Friend,
What on Thy might I lean
I need not tremble or fear,
Though oft perplexed and troubled now
I know Thou wilt be near.

Thou knowest what is best,
Choose Thou and I will heed,
Enough for me to follow Thee,
Whichever I am led,
I am in Thine arms,
Thou shalt be like, Lord,
Upon me to depend,
Though on the way my rugged
I know Thou art my Friend,
What on Thy might I lean
I need not tremble or fear,
Though oft perplexed and troubled now
I know Thou wilt be near.

Boundless Love.

BY HERBERT MAY LASH, PETERBORO.
TUNE—Chiding for the wanderer home.

3 There's time to go, no more delay,
Jesus waits to pardon you,
Turn and seek your God to-day,
Jesus waits to pardon you.

Boundless love beyond degree,
Calling for all wandering home;
Jesus waits to set you free,
Calling for the wanderer home.
His precious blood has washed you white,
And now for you to live in Christ,
Henceforth do it in peace,
O Lord, I will dedicate Thy power
To keep me holy every day,
While I on earth remain.
When with our earthly home falls down,
My ears of one not made with hands,
I shall be in the heaven.

That I Might be Set Free.

BY CAPTAIN J. H. ANSLEY.
TUNE—A la belle, (B. J., No. 6.)

7 Unshaken love of Christ, my King,
He died for even me,
Was shed and crucified and crucified,
That I might be set free.

8 I'm Thine, dear Lord, I'm Thine, dear Lord,
I've tried all that man's law,
Thou know'st I love Thee; keep me true,
And make me more like Thee.

9 The soul went through Thy flesh and bone,
O, 'twas all for me,
Thou hast me, Jesus, in return
To be my God for ever.

10 How small is love compared with Thine!
O, how I long to be,
A greater blessing than I am
In bringing souls to Thee.

Dear Father, all have love in Thine,
Thou art enough for me,
With joy I'll share Thy blessed Cross,
And bring the souls to Thee.

Jesus, My Song.

On the downward road I tread,

Thinking not of God;
Thou hast me, Jesus, in return
To be my God for ever.

ST. JOHN L.—Brigadier Jacobs and Staff Captain Bennett with the Fraying Gang, visited us last night. Goodnight, good, and collection, and a list of all the names and souls saved through the blood. A Brilliant Array of Salvation Army Talent in the Christmas 'Cry.'

"THE CAPTAIN'S ON THE DOOR."

(Reprinted by request.)

It was a stormy crowd that stood the ball before.

A good one from the entrance kept. The Captain's on the door.

They hustled, rushed, and fought. They stirred and came, and went.

But hushed was all when things passed. "The Captain's on the door."

"We were shut out last night, we vowed we'd come no more.

But now, when it is so late, it will be right, when Captain's on the door."

She gave the door, and some then o'er and over.

And some escape her loving eye, that Captain's on the door."

She notes the faces, that mannae guests before.

They paused and wait, and wait their turn, for Captain's on the door."

A ragged, noisy throng; around, behind, before.

"Come in," she smiles, then lets them pass; the Captain's on the door."

A very child of his, her hungry lips are sore;

She helps her tottering feet, then, for Captain's on the door."

One looks up from the "peak," with head down and eyes.

"Come, brother, come! go now," she says, for Captain's on the door."

A rough, and then a son, and then a widow poor.

"Here also is a woman, too, this Captain's on the door."

"Keep him! keep him! 'I was here, last night I don't let go!"

"Nay, give him one more chance," she says, for Captain's on the door."

Quick feet, and merry eyes, she comes late from the door.

"She knows him, I'll give it," she cries, "my Captain's on the door."

The faithful life in vain admission there implies.

For Captain knows their "larks," too well, and Captain's on the door."

Midnight under the stars. Stood Hester's gate before.

They look, they knock, they entrance find, the CAPTAIN'S on the door."

Some come but young in life, some old with blackened nose.

They weep knock, and wait their turn, for Captain's on the door."

Her way was long and lean, his bright and quickly over.

The hardest race at last is won, and CAPTAIN'S on the door."

His weary face is stained, their feet with travel sore.

A heavy group stand with weariness, for CAPTAIN on the door."

I heard one on the brink, her sorrow's tears were sore.

"No fear," she gasped, "He'll take me in, my CAPTAIN on the door!"

Oh, read the things forth, and about it clear and over.

"Whoever will may entrance find," while CAPTAIN'S on the door."

Come, then, my comrades, turn, to Hester's doorway peer.

A heavy group stand with weariness, for CAPTAIN on the door."

Not surer than those Golden Gates, with Jesus on the door."
